John Mann is the Managing Director of Alex & Red. We conduct mid-to senior-management searches for major organizations and C-level searches for startup and middle-market enterprises. He has recruited for public and private clients across the United States, Europe, Africa, and Asia-Pacific, including Fortune 500 corporations, startups, professional services firms, and not-for-profit organizations.

Mr. Mann's experience includes serving as a client account manager for Bowne, a New York Stock Exchange financial, marketing, and business communications services company, where he assisted Fortune 100 clients in the development of equity and debt offerings, regulatory filings, and other shareholder and compliance materials.
